HOW TO MAKE A HOT-BED

AND HOW TO MANAGE IT WHEN MADE.

Ducks in Flocks of Twenty Thousand—
The Mistakes of Nurserymen—A Remedy for the Carrot Grub—Farm Notes.

A hot-bed is not necessary if one is convenient to a city where there are large seed stores, if plants are required for a small garden, as early varieties are kept in stock, but on the farm, if large crops of early cabbage, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, peppers and other crops, which require protection for a while, in order to secure early plants, are grown, a hot-bed will be valuable. The cost of a hot-bed is but very little, considering its advantages, and once made it requires but slight repairing each year. With the hot-bed should be constructed a few cold frames. The difference is that the hot-bed requires glass, while the cold frame, which serves for large plants (transplanted from the hot-bed later in the season), may be covered with boards only, especially if intended for such hardy plants as early cabbage or lettuce. The frame may be 16 inches high at the rear, and 14 inches in front, from the level of the ground, and covered with sash of any desired size. The boards may be simply nailed together at the corners, fastened to 2 by 3 inch scantling, but gardeners first make a pit, one foot deep, and use a frame 24 inches at the rear, and 22 inches at the front, according to the kinds of plants to be grown. The height at the front, however, depends on the width of the bed.

"Is it wrong to cheat a lawyer?"
"No; but it's next to impossible."

Teacher—What does your father work at, Johnny? Johnny O'Shea—He don't work at nuttin'; he's a policeman. See?
—Brooklyn Eagle.

He—Why are you forever roasting Charley Fenderson? She—Simply because he isn't half baked.—Boston Evening Transcript.

The new parlor maid—Miss Alice says she's not home, sir. He—Oh—er—really! Then tell her I didn't call.—Boston Budget.

She—You say you love me, but I doubt it. What you take for love is merely a disease. He—I wish it were contagious.
—New York World.

Jackson—Say, old man, you're looking well. By the way, I was out to the races is generally used. It is the fermentation of the manure which creates the heat. If the manure is too loose it may create heat more rapidly than desired. It is better to mix the manure in a pile, allow it to heat some, and then turn it over and well mix it again before using it in the hot-bed. Having trampled the manure firmly, now cover it with rich dirt, to which has been added one-fourth its bulk of fine, well-rotted manure. There should be no lumps, stones or pebbles in the hot-bed. If necessary, sift the dirt. The thickness of the dirt should be about six inches. As there will then be about a foot of space between the dirt and the sash (the hot-bed being 24 inches at the rear), ample air space will thus be provided. If the manure does not heat up quickly, and is too slow, sprinkle the bed well with hot water, first adding a small quantity of air-slaked lime to the water. If too much heat is generated, use cold water alone. When the heat reaches about 60 degrees, plant the seeds, in rows, but more warmth will be required for the young plants later on.

MANAGEMENT.
Of course the frame should be well banked up with dirt, to prevent the effects of the frost. The object should be to maintain as even temperature as possible. On clear, warm days the sash may be raised slightly, in order to admit air, during the middle of the day, but this will depend on many circumstances. The better plan is to hang a thermometer in the hot-bed, and to visit it frequently. As the heat from the manure decreases the weather will become warmer. Gradually accustom the plants to the temperature of the outside atmosphere as much as possible, and transplant to the cold frame such as may be suitable for that purpose. Some sort of covering should be used over the sash at night, such as an old carpet, with a few loose boards over the carpet. The temperature of the atmosphere must be the guide in management, as the plants must not be kept too warm or become liable to being chilled.

It is the duty of everyone, whether at home or travelling for pleasure or business, to equip himself with the remedy which will keep up strength and prevent illness, and cure such ills as are liable to come upon all in every day life. A Grand Feature.

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

Ship-Names.

As regards terms connected with the ship, its hull, masts, decks and rigging, they are innumerable; and, singular to remark, as our military terms are derived from the Normans, the greater number of our naval ones come from the Saxon and Dutch, such as ship, boat, boom, etc. The terms larboard and starboard come from the Italian "guasta borda," and "quella borda," which by rapid delivery became starboard and larboard; but owing to the strong similarity of sound, have been changed into starboard and port (Latin "porto," to carry), the use of the terms in the original form having been the cause of many accidents.

Quarterdeck originated from the arrangement that the portion of the deck so called was about one-fourth of the whole space. Fore or forward castle receives its name as being the principal part of the ship in which the fighting took place, being raised much above the level of the other part of the deck, and holding a commanding position. Poop, the raised after-part of the ship set apart for officers, both in meaning and derivation comes from the Latin.

Gangway has been handed down from the days of the ancient galley of the Phoenicians, Carthaginians and Romans, it having been a board which ran along the whole length, serving as a passage for the rowers to and from their seats. It was also utilized as a resting place for the mast and sail when not in use. The term now denotes a place of exit or entrance from, or two a vessel, generally from the shore by means of a long plank or platform.—Chambers' Journal.

A Health Hint.

The late Sir Andrew Clark, the famous physician, believed heartily in fresh air, simple diet and a cheerful mind as remedial agents. He once visited a patient whose bedroom walls were covered with a paper of most depressing color and pattern. "That paper," said Sir Andrew, decisively, "is quite enough to send a healthy man melancholy mad; its effect upon an invalid, who is compelled to lie still and gaze upon it all day, must be awful. You'll have to move the patient into a more cheerfully papered room." "But, Sir Andrew, this is the best of them all," was the remonstrance. "Then," said the great doctor, "you must buy a bright curtain or something, and hide these dreadful walls." And curtains were purchased accordingly.

The Napanee Express

NAPANEE, FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1894.

OTTAWA, July 21.—Waiting until nearly all the members have left for their homes the government in the dying hours of the session, lay before the house a series of railway subsidy resolutions involving an expenditure of the people's money amounting to $5,000,000. Is that a square deal? Are the people's representatives to have nothing to say about the matter? There was no earthly reason why these subsidy resolutions should not have been laid before parliament early in the session, that not only the members but the country should have an opportunity of knowing where the money was going and to record their protest if they thought the money was being squandered. We are told that the revenue is declining: that there is to be a heavy deficit this year. yet the

No stronger evidence of the discord that prevails in the cabinet could be asked than the scene that took place in the Senate on Thursday between Sir Frank Smith and Minister Angers. The latter had charge of the Government Insurance Bill. He proposed an amendment that had been moved in the Commons by Sir John Thompson. Sir Frank, who is also a member of the cabinet, without portfolio, opposed it; Minister Bowell saw with Sir Frank that the senate would not pass the amendment. Angers persisted, telling his colleagues he had only one leader. The amendment was, however, moved by Angers but it was defeated.

vote away nearly $5,000,000 towards assisting railway enterprises often of doubtful character. A few wirepullers club together and secure a charter; they next secure the promise of a subsidy and they look about for buyers who for a price take the road off their hands. They then set to work to see where another road can be projected, always in a locality where the government can find some justification for voting a subsidy. These railway subsidies in one way or another prove a powerful lever for the government during election times. When the railway subsidy resolution was before the House on Thursday Mr. Laurier moved an amendment that before the money was paid over to the railway companies the Auditor General should investigate the accounts and also that a system of "Audit" should be introduced to see that there was no crooked work after the subsidies have been paid. Sir John Thompson opposed this motion and he called in his majority to vote it down. No, this would be too great check on the dealings between the government and the railway corporations or contractors, who are often very generous in responding to the government calls about election times.

CURRAN BRIDGE
The conservative majority by vote in the House have declared the government not responsible for the squandering of some $250,000 on this celebrated work. Haggart is trying to throw the responsibility upon the friends of the Minister of Public Works, Col. Quimet, while the latter holds that Haggart and his department should be held responsible. When I state that there is a family quarrel between these two members of the Cabinet I state what I know to be a fact. Subsequent developments will establish what I say.
There is an interesting letter fight going on just now in ministerial circles.
The conservatives of Ontario, I refer to the tory members from that province, are up in arms over the way they have been disgraced by the Quebec stories. They say that they had hardly got through defending the government in the McGreevy-Connolly-Langevin scandal before they were asked to stick by the government in swearing there had been no crooked work in connection with the Curran Bridge job, and did not end here for they have had to stand by and declare that Turcotte had acted straight and had not forfeited his seat in parliament. Then they had to whitewash Caron and friends. Is it a wonder there should be some kicking?

THE SESSION
The work of the session is practically over and what has it amounted to.
Nearly $5,000,000 have been voted away, as I stated before, for railway subsidies: $750,000 has been voted for a fast Atlantic steamship service, while in the dying hours of the session, when it was too late for the House to discuss the items supplementary estimates were brought down voting out of the treasury $2,800,000 for sundry public works. The government well knows that many of the items will not bear criticism and they delay bringing these estimates down until the majority of the members have left for their homes.
We have also had presented before the House a "Tariff Bill," a bill that was to relieve the burden of taxation. It was not a week after the Minister of Finance introduced his bill, and the

THE TORONTO BABY FARMS

Roundly Denounced by a Queen City Coroner.

22 DEATHS AT 1 FARM IN 14 MONTHS

The Mysterious Death of an Infant in a Sackville-street Lying-In Hospital the Subject of a Coroner's Inquest—The Government to Be Asked to Amend the "Baby Farm" Act.

TORONTO, July 23.—Last night in the theatre of the Trinity Medical College Coroner Powell held an inquest on the body of Alfred Wright, aged 9 months, who died at 312 Sackville-street yesterday morning. The jury returned a verdict of death from shock and prostration, caused by interception of a passage of the intestines. A rider was also added urging the Government to amend the Baby Farm Act to make the adoption of children for a lump sum of money equivalent to a breach of the act, as the pretence of adoption is not within the spirit of the Act.

The inquiry brought out facts which go to show that illegitimate children are not healthy, or that there is some good reason why the police should make further investigations into the system of caring for children placed in these alleged baby farms.

Mrs. Ellen Wright lives at 312 Sackville-street. The police claim she conducts what is popularly known as a "baby farm," but the woman denies the charge.

According to the evidence brought out at the inquest she evades the penalty for running a "farm" without a license by "adopting" the infants she takes charge of. This is not the first time she has come in contact with the police. Some four years ago she had to answer to a criminal charge in connection with the birth of a child. She was acquitted.

Besides caring for infants Mrs. Wright conducts a private lying-in hospital. At the present time she has in the house two women. One of them is receiving medical attendance.

The immediate cause of the inquest on the infant was the refusal of Dr. Bryans to grant a burial certificate. He was called in to attend the babe on Monday evening. He found the child very emaciated. He saw at once the child could not live, as there had been too much delay in calling in medical attendance. The child died at 9 a.m. Tuesday. It had been ill four days. He saw another infant, 4 months old, there, also in a dying condition. It was almost pulseless and the doctor does not think it can live. This will be the third that has died within a year.

Mrs. Wright told the doctor that the dead child was her own, but afterwards admitted that she had "adopted" it. Dr. Bryans thought both infants should have had medical attendance earlier. If a doctor had been called sooner both children might have been saved.

Mrs. Wright, the alleged "baby farmer," is a sharp-featured woman of 45. She was not a willing witness and was evidently on her guard. She stuck to the "adoption" theory, and several times appealed to the coroner to know whether she was forced to answer certain questions put to her by Inspector Archibald. She said she had adopted the dead child from birth. She would not give the name of the mother. The child was born in the eastern part of the city. She denied that it was born in the house. She agreed to take the child for $50, and was to be paid the amount next fall. Her memory failed when asked how many infants she had had in the house and how many women had been confined there during the past few years.

She remembered a girl named Lizzie who had lived in her house within a year. Her child died when a month old. But she (Mrs. Wright) had nothing to do with it, as her mother (Lizzie) had charge of it. She had charge of another woman for four months. Her child also died in the house. The pay she received varied. In one case she received $12 a month for a year, another $8 a month for five months. For the child now ill the rate is $2 for two weeks.

Miss Thomas, a nurse, testified that she had been called in to nurse a sick infant last February. The child died, as she was not called soon enough to be of any use.

The Coroner, in his address to the jury, said the medical testimony showed that the infant died from natural causes. But the holding of the inquest was a splendid

LOADING A STEAMER

CARE NECESSARY IN STOWING THE VARIED CARGO.

"Stiffening" a Ship—The Loading of Grain—Disposal of Fruit, Provisions, &c.—Immense Amount of Coal Carried.

When a great ocean steamer comes to port and has disembarked passengers, baggage and freight, the first care of the stevedore in charge of her loading for the return voyage is to give her interior a thorough overhauling and cleansing. From bottom to top he superintends the work of washing out the holds where canned provision are to be stored, and of lining with matting those wherein grain and flour are put, and the labor of preparation goes briskly along, until all is in readiness for the new cargo.

Tlien begins the varied and picturesque process of loading the ship. To those unfamiliar with the sight the details are bound to be full of interest. Moored to her pier, her hull length stretching out into the harbor, her vast interior divested of all she has brought from foreign lands, her machinery idle, her officers and crew busied in a multitude of petty duties, and a small army of longshoremen getting ready to begin operations upon her, the vessel easily suggests some great aquatic monster lazily awaiting its feeding time, and not much concerned either as to the character of the food to be put into its many yawning mouths.

Standing on the upper deck and looking down one of these cavernous depths into the lower hold almost a hundred feet below, it is not easy for the uninitiated to compute the amount of material it will require to fill the ship's enormous stomach. A ton of anything is hardly a morsel to its capacity, and pounds by the hundred thousand will have to be stowed away before even one of the immense recesses is filled.

When the loading is fairly begun, the ship and its immediate neighborhood are busy places, indeed. On the wharf assorted merchandise by the carload is being unloaded and piled near the ship, and teams by the dozen are adding their contents to the immense mass.

On the water side lighters of grain, coal, hay, flour and provisions are either fastened to the vessel's side or anchored some little distance away, waiting their turn to hoist their contents aboard. Engines are puffing, ropes are tugging, and derricks are lifting heavy freight of every description to the ship's deck. The sounds of truck, wheelbarrow, and which are heard everywhere, and the orders of stevedore and foreman and the answers of their subordinates mix with the general din.

The time occupied in loading a vessel would not be long, under the system followed, if the work could be continuously carried on. But there's the rub! Delays in the receipt of freight at the wharf are constant, the work is consequently intermittent, and the job, which could be finished in from twenty-five to forty-eight hours, is generally extended through three or four days.

Large vessels have four or five holds, and a distinction is made in storing the cargo in them. Grain, from its compact and dead weight, is reserved mostly for the center of the vessel, while cured provisions are packed as far forward and as far aft as possible for their better preservation from the heat of the ship's fires. In some vessels, like the great Cunarders, which carry passengers as well as freight, the heaviest weight is stored in the lowest hold; this is to steady the ship, and is called, in the technical parlance of the stevedore, "stiffening" the ship. It takes about 1,500 tons to "stiffen" a great Cunarder, and when this is done the lower hold is battened down, and work is begun on the next.

To watch the loading of grain, either from an elevator or a lighter, into one of the mammoth vessels engaged in its transportation is to witness one of the chief operations in the movements of the world's commerce. It is carried in long pipes, with generally a funnel-shaped movable appendage at the end, which is shifted by means of a rope from one part of the hole to another, according as the stream of grain fills up the spaces reserved for it. The grain flows into the vessel with the noise and velocity of a torrent, and sends a dense volume of dust and chaff upward, obscuring the depths beneath and making the figures of the men attending the stowage below good. The "Baby-Farm" Act is being continually evaded by the "adoption" plan. In Australia the Government takes care of and provides an asylum for illegitimate children. Here there was no such institution, although there are some places where the mother and child can find shelter for a time. There is no necessity for sending children to the "baby farms." This plan was generally adopted when there was a desire to get rid of the infant. A "farm" was generally chosen that has a reputation that children will not live long there. He knew of one licensed "farm" in the city that had taken in 34 infants during the past 14 months, 22 of whom had died. At another place $25 was handed over with the infant. It died in two weeks. The coroner recommended the jury to add a rider that the Government amend the act. Speaking to Mrs. Wright, he hoped it would be a warning to her, for if any more infants died on her hands she might not get off so easily.

Inspector Archibald knows something of Mrs. Wright. Not long since a man complained to him that Mrs. Wright was worrying him for money, a sort of blackmail. Mrs. Wright claims that he owes her the money for services rendered and that she is only trying to collect what is justly due her.

Detective Duncan has charge of the case.

Two Sailors Shot Without Provocation.

COLLEGE POINT, L.I., July 25.—There was a mutiny on board the schooner P. R. King last night. Frank and Charles Durard, Portuguese sailors, were shot and fatally wounded by Captain Parker J. Hall. The two men made an ante-mortem statement denying that there had been a mutiny and asserting that the captain had shot them without provocation. The captain is under arrest.

Head of Maine Re-Nominated.

BIDDEFORD, Me., July 25.—The Republicans of the First Congressional District yesterday re-nominated Thomas B. Reed by acclamation.

"The trimming" of the grain in the holds is an important part of the storage. After several thousand bushels have steamed into the hold, a dozen or more men are delegated to shovel the downpouring column in between the vessel's beams, and wherever they see a vacant recess, a job for which they are paid at the rate of one cent a minute. In vessels of the Cunard stripe, it takes between 12,000 and 15,000 bushels to fill a hold, and these vessels average 50,000 bushels in the total cargo. Ships carrying grain alone can carry as high as 125,000 bushels, and when it is considered that from 4,000 to 7,000 bushels can be stored in an hour, every forty bushels weighing a ton, an idea can be had of the force of the torrent directed into the vessel.

Another important feature of the loading of a great vessel is her coal. It is customary to take on as high as 200 tons of a surplus over the actual necessities of the voyage, and hence the bunkers of the vessel are in the charge of a special gang of men. Some vessels load their coal over all, but the majority take it in through openings at the sides. Large V-shaped pockets, which run direct to the bunkers, are let down at each side, and around them are built stagings on which a couple of men are stationed to dump the coal from huge buckets, hoisted by engines from lighters. On the wharf side the coal is wheeled in barrows by two men up a shelving gangway and turned into the bunkers direct.

Apples and cheese require special thought, and are stored only where the necessary ventilation can be given them. Hence they are not put in the lower holds, which are fastened down for the exclusion of all air and smell. The steamer will take whatever is to go, and has a variety of goods according to the season, the food staples always being in season and forming the chief portion of every cargo.

There is a difference in the loading of vessels, the principle followed being based on the character of the ship. Some, such as passenger ships, require more stability on the bottom than those which carry freight alone. The latter distribute the weight in the most desirable way for speed, making the lowest holds lighter than the upper. The battering of the holds is accomplished by beams which are fitted into sockets, and the hatches which are let down upon the beams.

Beef is lugged aboard on the shoulders of the men, and stood in the cold blast refrigerators of the ship.

It requires the services of 125 men to load a great vessel with all the appliances of steam and gearing to assist their operations. At the head of all is the stevedore, who has the help of a couple of foremen in giving orders to the other men. The crowd is divided into half a dozen or more "gangs," each "gang" having its two or more head men, who are in communication with the foremen stevedore.—Boston Herald.

Japanese Minister Reports That No Violence Was Offered.

LONDON, July 25.—The Japanese Minister, Viscount Kawase, has presented to the Earl of Kimberley, Minister of Foreign Affairs, a copy of the report of the general in command of the Japanese troops in Seoul concerning the alleged assault upon British Consul Hillier by Japanese soldiers. The report denies that any violence was offered either to the consul or his wife, and expresses regret that an unimportant incident should have been magnified and misrepresented.

U.S. Warships in Korean Waters.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Secretary Graham has finally admitted the truth of the article recently published in The Sun accusing him of having sent a telegram to the U.S. Minister at Tokyo saying that the United States would view with regret a continuation of the unjust war levied by Japan upon Korea. And Again Defends Cleveland's Tariff Course.

3 HOURS' CAUCUS WITHOUT RESULT

The President Upheld as Making an Honest Effort to Carry Out the Policy of the Democratic Party—Senator Caffery Moves to Restore the Sugar Bounty.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The most entertaining and remarkable feature in the great national performance on the floor of the Senate was the part played by Senator Hill as the defender of President Cleveland against the assaults of Democratic senators in connection with the President's now famous letter to Mr. Wilson, the chairman of the House conferees on the Tariff bill. Mr. Hill took the ground that the letter being unofficial was no violation of the constitution, that it was no attack upon the Senate, or upon any Senator, but that it was an honest effort to carry out the policy and theories of the Democratic party and to advance the interests of the people. As to its being an unwarranted attempt to interfere with pending legislation, Mr. Hill asserted that the blame lay with those Senators who, instead of acting on their own judgment and responsibility, "badgered" the President to give them his views upon the compromise bill which they had prepared. "Do as I do," he said to them. "Keep away from the White House."

The Democrats of the country were in sympathy with Mr. Cleveland. Democratic clubs and Democratic conventions all over the country had endorsed the Wilson bill in respect to free raw materials. On the other hand, the Senate bill has been received everywhere with signs of disapproval. Even in the Senate every member of the Finance Committee had announced himself as personally in favor of free coal and free iron ore.

The Senator from Maryland (Mr. Gorman), on the other hand, with that "frankness and boldness" which was his nature, had boldly thrown aside the mask on yesterday and had proclaimed himself in favor of a tariff on coal and iron ore.

"A revenue tariff," suggested Mr. Gorman, quietly.

"A revenue tariff as you will," replied Mr. Hill, "but nevertheless a tariff."

"You," continued Mr. Hill, looking Gorman straight in the eye, "did not, like your colleagues, set up the childish defence that you had been buccinated into supporting a duty on coal and iron ore."

Mr. Hill then proceeded to take issue with Mr. Gorman's argument made yesterday that the President had only recently discovered the doctrine of free raw materials. He carefully quoted from the President's public utterances to demonstrate that Mr. Cleveland had been wedded to that doctrine since he sent his famous tariff message to Congress in 1887.

Neither did Mr. Hill believe that Mr. Cleveland could be held responsible for the unofficial utterances of Secretary Carlisle, but, referring to the official utterances of the Secretary of the Treasury, he pointed out that until this present question arose both Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Carlisle were consistent and in harmony.

"When Mr. Cleveland saw that his Senate bill placed a duty on coal and iron ore, the property of the rich," said Mr. Hill, dramatically, "and removed the duty from wool, the product of the farmer, he would have been false to himself, false to his pledges and false to his party. He called attention to the discrimination and inconsistency."

"He spoke too candidly, too earnestly; that is why he was criticized. Did not those very senators who criticized Mr. Cleveland yesterday go to the President and plead and implore him to stand by the bill they framed? Did they not realize how tame and weak any bill would be that did not have the approval of a Democratic President? Condemning encroachment by the Executive came with poor grace from those who admitted that they had themselves sought the interposition of the President to save them."

Mr. Hill proceeded in impassioned tones to say that in the last half century the Senate chamber had witnessed great scenes and great debates. But yesterday in the presence of a great crowd a conspicuous Senatorial leader of the Democratic party had summoned senator after senator with the formality of a judicial proceeding to Those Senators detailed to private conversations with the President. They admit that the President at all times urged free raw material. Yet they inferred, or concluded, or supposed, that he wanted the Senate bill.

And in view of this apprehension of the President's wishes it was but natural he should write an honest, frank, manly letter to Chairman Wilson. Surely the President could never have said anything to these senators which bound him irrevocably to the Senate bill, as they would have it understood.

The President did not indulge in idle and random comment, added Mr. Hill. These senators, therefore, had discussed a subject in general terms. They had not received the matured and well-weighed opinion of the President. He had not attempted to pass in deliberate judgment on propositions they presented to him.

"Mr. President," said the Senator with one hand raised on high, "I am not ordinarily a defender of the President. [Laughter.] I have my grievances. I have received nothing from him. I differ from him, especially on matters of party policy in my own state, but I agree with him in this principle, and I am broad-minded enough to defend him when he is unjustly attacked."

The enthusiastic galleries broke into loud and long applause, which caused Senator Hawley to suggest that the doorkeepers remove the offenders if they again make a demonstration.

Mr. Hill defended himself against the reference of Mr. Gorman and other Senators concerning his position on the Tariff bill. He referred to his last speeches in the line of tariff reform. In them he had never failed to insist on the Democratic principle of free raw material.

"The Senator (meaning Mr. Gorman) says I am an opponent of this bill. Then let it be so," said Mr. Hill, with vehemence. "Yes, I am in opposition to this present bill. The people are opposed to it. The House of Representatives is opposed to it. If therefore I am opposed to it, I find myself in good company."

Senator Hill said the bill met the public expectation in so far as it carried out the lines laid down by the Chicago platform. In so far as it departed therefrom, it was not satisfactory to the Democracy. Its incorporation of some of the principles of the Populist Party was likewise unsatisfactory.

"If I can place this bill in such a position that you cannot pass it with the income tax in it I shall do so. I do not know that it can be done, but I shall make certain suggestions to that end."

He wound up a two hours' speech bristling all over with the spikes and spears of his wit and sarcasm by comparing the senatorial conspiracy against President Cleveland to that which compassed the assassination of Julius Caesar. In this historical parallel Senator Gorman of Maryland stood for the "Lean and hungry Cassius," of whom Caesar said: "He thinks too much. Such men are dangerous." Senator Jones of Arkansas for "Honest Brutus," Senator Vest for the "Envious Casca," Senator Voorhees for "Trebonius," and "the distinguished" Senator from Tennessee, Mr. Harris, for "Cinna." He carried out the parallel by declaring that these Senators made the same plea which the conspirators of old made, "Not that they loved Caesar less, but that they loved Rome more." "Not that they loved Cleveland less, but that they loved their party more."

Mr. Hill was followed by Senator Caffery of Louisiana, who submitted a motion looking to the restoration in the sugar schedule of a bounty for 1894. In a short speech (which was, however, not concluded), he accused the Democratic managers of bad faith in striking out the sugar bounty and declared explicitly for himself and his colleague (Mr. Blanchard) that they would not vote for the Tariff bill if it put sugar on the free list.

Without action, and in order to have time for a Democratic caucus, the Senate at 3.30 adjourned.

DEMOCRATS IN CAUCUS.

Three Hours' Conclave Without Result—Solid for the Senate Bill.

Almost immediately after the Senate adjourned yesterday afternoon the Democratic Senators went into caucus for the purpose of formulating a program in regard to the disposal of the Tariff bill. For three hours the discussion continued, and then without having reached any conclusion an adjournment was taken until to-morrow at the same hour. Soon after the caucus convened Mr. Jarvis (N.C.) offered a resolution that the bill be that resolution after the discussion was based. Senators who talked were as zealous as could be, and insisted as strenuously that the Senate bill should prevail.

A most all of the debate was directed at Mr. Vilas in an effort to induce him to withdraw his motion to strike out the differential on refined sugar. Mr. Vilas made an plea for the administration by saying that in view of the strong letter the President had written there should be some sort of concession on the part of the Senate, and he believed the concession should be among other things on the sugar schedule.

The result of the sugar discussion was that the caucus did not get a very clear idea how Mr. Vilas was going to conduct himself, although it was said after adjournment that he would probably yield to the judgment of his colleagues and permit his motion to be withdrawn.

Coal and iron ore proved to be an interesting subject. Mr. Paugh (Ala.) told his colleagues that neither of these articles must be touched. He warned the Senators that neither he nor his colleagues would support the bill unless these articles were left on the dutiable list. The sentiment was almost solidly in favor of the Senate bill and the insistence of the conferees on the amendments made by the Senate.

A COMPROMISE BILL.

Proposed by Mr. Harter With a General Duty of 30 Per Cent.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The tariff complication led Mr. Harter (Ohio) to draft a compromise tariff bill, which he introduced in the House yesterday. It provides that on and after Sept. 1, 1894, all existing duties, not otherwise provided for, shall be reduced one-half, provided such reduction does not bring them below 20 per cent. ad valorem.

On and after Sept. 1, 1894, all duties in excess of 12 per cent. ad valorem shall be reduced to the uniform rate of 12 per cent. ad val., to which shall be added internal taxes, and on and after Sept. 1, 1894, a uniform duty or tax of one cent per pound shall be levied and paid upon all sugars and molasses having 100 degrees of saccharine strength and a reduction of one hundredth of a cent per pound shall be made for each degree of saccharine strength below 100 degrees.

A uniform duty of 4 cents per pound upon all coffee and of 8 cents per pound upon all tea imported into the United States is also provided for.

The internal tax upon beer and other malt liquors is fixed at $2 per gallon.

Gorman On Free Coal.

Speaking of the duty on coal Mr. Gorman yesterday argued that 40 cents a ton was purely a revenue duty. Free coal, he said, would give to a single foreign corporation all the coal trade from Boston north. Free coal would not benefit a single man or woman in the country. Who demands it? he asked. The professional, theoretical tariff reformer said it would cheapen the cost of manufacturing, yet mathematically free coal would not give the New England manufacturer more than three-fourths of one per cent. of manufacturing. There was but one great concern on the face of the earth that wanted free coal. In Nova Scotia there was a deposit of coal as broad and as rich as any on the face of the earth. The Government of Canada had controlled it. Five years ago the Dominion Government was induced to change its policy. The small leases were wiped out. The Canadian Pacific, that great artery of Great Britain, together with men from the United States, associated themselves together and secured a 99-year lease of those coal fields on condition that they should pay into the Canadian treasury 12 cents a ton royalty. If coal were free the coal of Nova Scotia would displace that of the United States in New England and the treasury of Canada would be enriched by money that ought to go into the treasury of the United States. "God knows we have enough trusts," said Mr. Gorman. "I will never consent to allow this mammoth foreign corporation to invade our territory and take the substance away from our people."

THE WAR IN THE ORIENT.

THE COREANS DEFEATED AT SEOUL

The Assault Investigated By Chinese Residents of Seoul—A Chinese Transport sunk by a Jap Gunboat—China Prepared For a Six Months Campaign—Twenty Ports Exempt From Attack.

SHANGHAI, July 25.—It is generally believed here that Japan does not desire a peaceful settlement of the Corea dispute.
As evidence of this, attention is called to the fact that as soon as one difficulty is overcome Japan immediately raises another. The outlook is most threatening.

The latest attitude of the King of Corea in the crisis (agreeing to certain reforms demanded by Japan provided the troops are withdrawn) is supposed to be due to China's decided measures to uphold her claim to suzerainty over the Korean peninsula.

The reports that France and Russia will support Japan against China are pronounced absolutely groundless.

It is reported that a Chinese transport ship has been sunk by a Japanese gunboat.
The British Charge d'Affaires at Tokyo has wired the British Consul here that Japan has agreed to treat Shanghai as outside the sphere of operations in any warfare that Japan may engage with China.

A BATTLE AT SEOUL

Corean Troops Attack the Japs and Are Repulsed.

NAGASAKI, July 25.—Advices from Seoul state that a battle has been fought there between Corean and Japanese troops in which the Coreans were repulsed with considerable loss. The Corean troops with some Chinese soldiers made an attack upon the Japanese garrison at the Corean capital and attempted to take the Japanese position by storm. A sharp fight ensued, but the Japanese fire was more than the attacking party could stand and they were compelled to retire.

The assault upon the Japanese garrison was made at the instigation of the Chinese residents at Seoul.

Instigated by the Chinese.

LONDON, July 25.—The Japanese Minister has official information confirming the report of the engagement between Corean and Japanese troops at Seoul. There is no doubt in the minds of the members of the Japanese Legation that the attack upon the Japanese garrison was instigated by Chinese.

A despatch to The Central News from Shanghai says: When war has been declared the non-combatant powers will exact a pledge that the treaty ports shall be exempted from attack, their respective

THE FOOD OF LIVE STOCK

DIGESTIBILITY AND SPECIAL VALUE OF CORN BRAN.

Brief Notes on Various Topics Collected Especially for the Farmer and Suburban Resident—Useful Hints on Agricultural Matters.

A study of the properties of foods shows not only a great difference in the nutritive values of each kind but also in the several amounts of the whole that are digested. The farmer, in utilizing the various foods produced on the farm, aims to balance the inferior with the more nutritious. In his report on the value of corn bran Professor Armby, of the Pennsylvania Experiment Station, gives its analysis, and proposes a ration which is perhaps one of the cheapest and most variable for cows that can be suggested. Corn bran contains 9.19 per cent. of water, 5.45 per cent. of ash, 6.49 per cent. of protein, 18.55 per cent. of fibre, 60.85 per cent. of nitrogen free extract (starch), and 4.47 per cent. of fat.
As corn bran is seldom sold off the farm it is one of the sources from which a large proportion of the manure is made, and it is really more valuable in some respects than cornmeal as it contains more mineral matter.

WHEAT GOES INTO MANURE

That portion of the food which is not digestible passes into the manure, in many cases being nearly one-half of the whole. A ration composed of 12 pounds corn fodder, 8 pounds clover hay, 4 pounds mals sprouts, and 8 pounds cor-meal bran is considered a ration for one cow, for one day. As cows differ in size, preferences of food, digestive capacity, etc., any fixed quantity can only be an estimate. Of the quantities mentioned above the total dry matter is 26 pounds in 100. This means that for every 100 pounds of such food that is allowed 74 pounds of water. Of the 26 pounds, about 16 pounds are digestible, or utilized by the animal for nourishment. The remaining 10 pounds is voided and passed into the manure heap.
For every 100 pounds of food given, therefore, the farmer loses, as water and manure, 84 pounds. The water passes away while the manure is retained, but the actual value of the whole is based upon its relative proportion of digestible matter, and the greater the digestibility of the foods the larger the benefit derived.

UTILIZING COARSE FOODS.

Bran, ground grain, malt sprouts, etc., serve to supply deficiency in the coarse and bulky foods. For instance, the 12 pounds of corn fodder mentioned contains 8.15 per cent. of dry matter, .81 per cent. of protein, 4.21 per cent. of carbo-hydrates, and .07 per cent. of fat.
The 8 pounds of corn bran contains 7.26 per cent. of dry matter, .80 per cent. of protein, 4.24 per cent. of carbo-hydrates, and .33 per cent. of fat. Comparison thus shows that although the proportion of corn bran is but two-thirds that of the corn fodder, yet it contains but little less of dry matter, nearly the same amount of protein, and exceeds the corn fodder in fat and starch. The ration given (of the four substances), is composed of one part protein (nitrogenous matter), to seven and seven-tenths of carbonaceous material. Wheat bran differs from corn bran, but as wheat is not now ground extensively as flour for home use, while corn mills are on every farm, the feeding value of corn bran should not be overlooked.

LOST IN THE ARCTIC.

The Wellman Expedition Said to Have Been Crashed in the Ice.

LONDON, July 25.—Serious is the opinion expressed in a letter to The Standard by Carl Selwies, who says that he is in receipt of advices from Norway that leave little doubt that the Wellman Arctic expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from the Spitzbergen Seas express the same opinion and Edward Fielding, who accompanied Captain Nares' expedition in 1875, shares this belief. The Pall Mall Gazette is in receipt of similar advices from Tromsø, all confirming the general belief in the fate of the expedition.

Arctic sailors report that the flow of pack ice in the Arctic seas this summer has been so plentiful and dense that no vessel could live after being caught in it. They are unanimously of the opinion that the Ragnvald Jarl has been crushed in the ice and believe that the chance of any members of the expedition having been saved is very remote. It even they managed to get on the ice they would be in a dangerous position and not likely to survive long.

Collision With an Iceberg.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 25.—The steamship Miranada of the Red Cross Line, having on board Dr. Cook's Arctic expedition, which left New York July 7, has been in collision with an iceberg. No lives, however, were lost, and the Miranada was put into Cape Charles harbor, Labrador, where temporary repairs were effected. The Miranada then returned to this port, reaching here safely this morning. The steamship will be thoroughly overhauled here and will probably proceed to Greenland in a few days.

The collision occurred at 8.30 a.m. on July 17, during a dense fog, and when the Miranada was about five miles northwest of Belle Isle. The Miranada was then running at a good rate of speed, and it was not believed that there was any ice in her vicinity. In fact, the iceberg was not sighted until the steamer was close upon it.

Principal Merchant of London Picked Up by a Windsor Coal Barge.

WINDSOR, Ont., July 25.—When the steam barge Juno arrived at Windsor yesterday afternoon Captain Allen reported that during a gale 20 miles off Rondeau he picked up a small yacht containing Principal Merchant of the London Collegiate Institute and four friends, whose names he did not learn. The yacht was drifting at the mercy of the wind and waves, and but for the timely assistance of the coal barge crew all hands would have been lost. The gale lasted several hours and was quite severe.

VIGILANT WINS THE THIRD TIME.

Britannia Defeated in the Struggle for the Cork Club's Cup.

ROCHE'S POINT, Ireland, July 25.—Vigilant and Britannia started in a race again yesterday for a cup offered by the Royal Yacht Club of Cork, valued at 100 guineas. The course to be sailed over is the same as that of yesterday's, the finish being in front of the club house. The weather was cloudy and occasionally rain fell, and what little breeze there was blew lightly from the northeast.

The yachts crossed the line almost together at 10.30.02, Britannia having a nose the best of it as far as a lead was concerned, but the Vigilant secured the weather berth and more than offset this slight advantage. The boats both carried jack-yarders at the start, but immediately after crossing broke out their jib topsails and ran close-hauled on the port tack for Poor Head. The Britannia, after going half the distance to the first mark, ran under the stern of the Vigilant and got the weather berth. The Vigilant, however, was the first of the yachts to turn the mark at Poor Head.

They were timed at this mark as follows: Vigilant, 10.53.40; Britannia, 10.50.20. The run to Daunt's Rock was a free reach on the starboard tack. The times at the various turns were: Passing Daunt's Rock: Vigilant, 11.25.55; Britannia, 11.26.47.

On the second time around the Vigilant passed Poor Head over two minutes in the lead as follows: Vigilant, 12.32.07; Britannia, 12.34.22.

At Daunt's Rock, Vigilant 1.07.05, Britannia 1.09.32.

Turning Roche's Point, second round, Vigilant 1.36.50, Britannia 1.40.06.

Rounding Poor Head, third round, Vigilant 2.05.03, Britannia 2.09.23.

Rounding Roche's Point, the third round, Vigilant 3.14.25, Britannia 3.18.15.

The Vigilant won the race. Time of finish: Vigilant 3.46.20, Britannia 3.50.55.

The Vigilant, while sailing free on the last round between Poor Head and Daunt's Rock, broke the jaws of her gaff. The broken parts were hurriedly spliced in order to carry her home. There is some doubt that she will be able to race to-morrow.

DOUGLAS BRO. & CO., NAPANEE, ONT.:

Mr. McAdam writes: Have doctored two years with four different doctors for pain in my right lung, which prevented me doing anything, had bad cough night and day, and suffered great pain. I grew very thin, and was still getting worse and the pain and suffering increased. Hearing of such remarkable cures made by Douglas' Egyptian Liniment, I determined to try it, to remove the pain and I received immediate relief. I followed directions, the pain decreased, the cough loosened, and before six bottles had been used I felt a sound man. It is now exactly three years this spring and have had no relapse. As soon as I began to use the liniment I stopped taking any medicine whatever, and I do believe that Douglas' Egyptian Liniment has prolonged my life. People said I was dying with consumption. I am firm in my statement, and trust that other people, when first taken with heavy cold on lungs, will immediately do as I did as last resort, and save dollars. Yours truly,

And as daddy understands thoroughly how to catch the best fish in the river and the ladies cooking them, they will have a very pleasant time at W. D.

Rev. R. C. Horner, of evangelistic fame, is suspended, his methods not being in accord with the discipline of the Methodist church. He was stationed at last conference to a mission in Combermere, Renfrew county, but paid no attention to the appointment, going on with his mission work lately in Pembroke. Mr. Horner did not attend the trial, and is said to have stated that he will continue in his course.

A severe accident befell Alex Gunn, ex-M. P. of Kingston, on Monday night last. He had the misfortune, while in a somnambulist state, to walk into the staircase and to fall some distance on his head. It is to be hoped that the injuries will not be as lamentable as medical reports seem to

In the 160 yard race held on Forester's Island, on Tuesday, the Deseronto fellows were not in it. One of the Napanee boys, named Murphy, walked right away from them, says it was the best snap he ever had. The Deseronto 300 yard crack runner couldn't crack Murphy in the race or out of it. He says Murphy is not a Forester, but he is all the same, he belongs to the C.O.F. lodge.

Thomas Cleary, nephew of Archbishop Cleary, of Kingston, Canada, was found on the street in Chicago Monday morning in an unconscious condition, and taken to the hospital where he died. There were no marks of violence on him, and the cause of death is unknown. The deceased was a young man of excellent character and amiable disposition. He was bright, cheerful, and always courteous. His fascinating manners made him many friends in this city, and wherever he was known.

On Saturday, Aug. 4th, there will be an Excursion from Deseronto, calling at all stations, to Sydenham. Fare low. See

Don't Lose the Baby.—Every mother knows how critical a time the second summer is, and how many little ones die during that period from Summer Complaint, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, and Cholera Morbus; and how anxiously she watches day by day, lest the dread diseases snatch away the loved ones! There is no disease that comes so suddenly, or is so frequently so quickly fatal, as these Bowel Complaints and in a large majority of cases doctors and medicines seem to be of no avail.
There is, however, one remedy, which in forty years of trial has never been known to fail when taken according to the printed directions, and this is Perry Davis' Pain Killer. It is so safe and sure that no mother is justified in being without it. A bottle in the house ready for sudden sickness will often save a life. You can get the new big bottle for 25c.

Holloway's Pills.

Purifies the Blood.—To ensure health it is absolutely necessary that the fluid and solids of the human body should be kept free from those impurities which so continually seeping admission into the system by erroneous living, unwholesome atmosphere, or disordered stomach. Thoroughly safe and certain way to expel all impurities is to take Holloway's Pills, which have the power of cleansing the blood from all noxious matters, and at the same time removing any irregularities which their presence may have already produced in any organ.
Holloway's Pills expel all humours which tend to impoverish the blood, which they purify and invigorate, and give general tone. They are applicable to all alike—young or old, robust or the marriage of his daughter to a gentleman of Quebec took place on Wednesday.

Fung Suey, the Chinese laundryman who does business on Clarence street, Kingston, was in a very excited condition on Saturday night. It appears that a man whom Fung did not know presented a check for laundry and was handed the bundle for which the check called. He paid the amount asked, and when Fung's back was turned picked up another bundle belonging to a well-known citizen and decamped, taking both parcels with him.
Fung reported the matter to the police, but was so excited that the guardians of the law could not get a description of the thief. Meanwhile the thief holds the goods.

Arrangements have been completed for a race between the famous trotting dog "Doc," owned by a young Torontonian, and J. A.
Perry's flyer, "Victor." Perry's dog is comparatively unknown, but he is a strong collier, not quite three years old, and his trotting action is perfect. This was remarked by his owner when the flyer was a pup, and he has been training ever since, so that now he can show quarters at better than a three-minute gait. The race will take place at Toronto for a purse of $550. "Victor" draws a pneumatic-tired sulky, and those who know the dog claim that he can beat "Doc" or any trotting canine.

In the township of Pittsburgh, Frontenac County, a pest has appeared in the shape of an oat fly, and so voracious is its appetite that most of the late oats and a great deal of the early will be destroyed if the plague continues its ravages. The fly is so small as to be hardly visible to the naked eye, but when placed under a microscope it is seen to be armed with a pair of "pinchers" with which it pierces the oat. A poison contained by the nippers of the insect works its destructive course, turning the straw a reddish color.
One bite is sufficient to blast a stalk of grain. With the parent fly are associated several of the brood, each of which does its share in the work of devastation. It is 25 years since such a pest has been noticed in this locality.

Tennyson could take a worthless sheet of paper, write a poem on it and make it worth $65,000—that's genius. Vanderbilt can write a few words on a sheet of paper and make it worth $5,000,000—that's capital. The United States can take an ounce and a quarter of gold and stamp up on it an "eagle bird" and make it worth $20—that's Money. A mechanic can take material worth $5 and make it into watch springs worth $1000—that's skill. A merchant can take an article worth 75 cents and sell it for $1—that's business. A lady can purchase a 75 cent hat but she prefers one that cost $27—that's foolishness. A ditch-digger works ten hours a day and handles several tons of earth for $3—that's labor. The writer of this could write a check for $80,000,000 but it wouldn't be worth ten cents—that's rough.

Next Thursday, Aug. 2nd, the young men of the Presbyterian Church will run their excursion per str. C.
H. Merritt, to Massassaga Park, Belleville and Trenton. Fare, Massassaga Park and Belleville 25c. Trenton, 35c. See small bills for full particulars.

The Correction.

It does seem strange, Mr. Editor, that a falsehood should be started by some unfair minded person two weeks in succession regarding the game of ball played in the Park July 8th. Last week the score was given 9 to 3, that is admitted now to be incorrect, but it is claimed the Napanee players know nothing about it. I am certain all did not know it nor do all know of last week's falsehood, because I know there are fair minded persons among those who are sorry for these falsehoods being stated, but I know, at least, one of the players knew it and in fact gave it in to the Beaver to be printed. Another falsity last week is the number of innings played.
Each team played three even innings and Newburgh had four, but in giving the score, Sir, as 4 to 1, I do not include Newburgh's last innings, which would make it 5 to 1. Napanee, perhaps, forgot their third innings because they failed to hit the ball that innings, the kid as they call him, Mr.
E. J. Shory, fanning three men one after the other as fast as they came to the bat.
We desire no newspaper controversy but so long as falsehoods are stated it is necessary to correct them.

Fireman's Excursion.

On Monday evening the firemen had a parade, headed by the band, as a preliminary to their excursion to Presque Isle on Tuesday, which day was wet and unfavorable for excursions. Hence the crowd that took this excursion was rather small, although a really good day was had by all who boldly ventured the trip. In spite of the prospect of a damp time.

Scottish Picnic and Games

The first annual reunion of the different camps of the Sons of Scotland in this district will be held at Davy's Island on Aug.
8. Belleville, Trenton, Kingston, Picton, Deseronto and Napanee will turn out in full force, with Pipes and Tartans. St.
Bride's camp, Napanee, and Scotland Yet, Deseronto, will run a joint excursion on that date. Come and enjoy yourselves.
Look for full particulars next week.

A Good Time.

A number of the members and friends of the Western Methodist church had a splendid time at a social on the evening of Thursday last. There was a good attendance, and plenty of good things to eat including ice cream. The band was to have played during the evening, but failed to make an appearance. This has caused a little feeling, as the church people naturally deemed themselves treated with scant courtesy.

How to get a "Sunlight" Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" Soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why Does a Woman Look Old Sooner Than a Man.") to Lever Bros., Ltd., Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c postage to send in the wrappers, if you have the ends open. Write your address carefully.

Moonlight Excursion.

The excursion to Glenora, by the steamer Ella Ross, on Friday of last week was a very enjoyable one to those on board, although the moon was hidden during almost the whole of the trip. Up to almost the time of starting the weather was very fair, but about six o'clock there was quite a rain storm. The weather cleared a little about seven, and remained cloudy but not raining until the excursionists were about to disembark on returning to town. The excursion was under the auspices of the Junior Guild of St. Mary Magdalene's church.

Keewatin Flour has no equal at Kimmer-ly's.

Runaway.

On Monday evening last a horse belonging to R. Lawson butcher, ran away from his slaughter house and made for Dundas street, and when opposite the Royal Hotel made a bolt for the door of the sitting room, which it entered, and from thence made its way through the hall into the back yard. When the horse ran away it was attached to a light wagon, but the vehicle would not pass through the doorway of the sitting room of the Royal and one wheel striking the wall on each side, the vehicle was left behind, while the horse went on as usual. The wagon was somewhat damaged; but the horse seemed to be all right.

The young ladies of the church of St.
Mary Magdalene are having another moonlight excursion shortly.

Bicycle Races.

The Bicycle Club have issued a fine Lithograph announcing their inaugural race meet on Monday Aug. 13th. This will be the first regular programme of cycling events ever presented in Napanee and as the Club are anxious to produce an interesting list of races they will offer tempting prizes to induce the best riders in the province to compete. The committee are arranging for a Lacrosse match between two good teams and if successful the game will take place on the cricket ground during the intervals between races. The committee are A. R. Boyes, Herb Wright, J.
Friskin, J. F. McAlister, W. J. Normile, C. M. Smith and C. Weir.

BORN.

WILLIAMS—On Thursday, 19th July, 1894, at 41 Ulster st. Toronto, the wife of H. W. Williams of a son.

Norway Pine Syrup strengthens the system and cures all throat troubles.

St. Sunday next, at 8 a.m., Matins, Literary 11 a.m., Evensong 7 p.m.

Rev. F. T. Dibb, Missionary at Odessa, preached last Sunday evening at St. Mary Magdalene church on behalf of a new church to be built at Morven, an out station of his parish. The story which Mr. Dibb had to tell was most interesting. Morven was severed from Napanee in days gone by. Through sectional feelings, however, the school house, where the services had been conducted, was closed against the church, and the services had to be given up. Hoping that in fifteen or twenty years a more tolerant spirit might have prevailed, Mr. Dibb applied for the privilege (almost universally accorded to others) to open a service in the village school. This was promptly refused, and consequently there was no choice left but to "arise and build." The canvas so far, notwithstanding the hard times, has been most encouraging. A substantial grant from the Venerable society for promoting Christian knowledge has been secured, and Napanee and Deseronto have come forward with commendable liberality. Kingston is to be approached next, and with the assistance of friends in the Old Country, the energetic missionary hopes to see the little church in the (ecclesiastical) wilderness an accomplished fact before the winter sets in—so mote it be. We have our own burdens in Napanee, but we will not stand idly by when such a good work is being prosecuted under such exceptional difficulties.

Gosport.

Divine services will be held (D.V.) in St. Jude's church on Sunday, 29th Inst., at 2.30 o'clock.

Parish of Camden.

St. Luke's church, Camden East, morning prayer, Holy Com., 11 o'clock, evening prayer 7.30. Holy Trinity, 3 o'clock, Centerville 3 o'clock. St. John's, Newburgh, 7.30 p.m. The parish of Camden will run an excursion on Tuesday, July 31, to the prominent resort, Sydenham. It is hoped many will take advantage of it.

A notice has been going the rounds of the secular press in reference to the perversion to Rome of a pair of ecclesiastical gentlemen from New Brunswick. One is described as the "Dean of Fredericton," the other as a Reverend Professor. The Dean is the "Sub Dean" of the Cathedral, which means the "curate," and the "Reverend Professor" teaches English and French in a secular University, and his name (does not appear in any of the clergy lists at all). This is another sample of the unfair treatment the church generally receives, and which we have begun to look for as a matter of course. Moral—don't believe any tale against the church until it has been verified.
